Initial D: Next Generation

by TheAnimeRacer

Category: Initial D
Language: English
Status: In-Progress
Published: 2016-04-11 03:49:32
Updated: 2016-04-15 14:37:09
Packaged: 2016-04-27 20:06:27
Rating: T
Chapters: 2
Words: 3,883
Publisher: www.fanfiction.net
Summary: Fujiwara Akina is a part of the next generation of Street Racing. She never had any real battles, but kept training Drifting by encouragement of her father, legendary Fujiwara Takumi. When she meets the Akina Speed Stars and the Akagi Red Suns, she is eager to start having official battles against the drift masters of the mountains. Will she follow her father's legacy?

1. Info

I'm planning a crossover story between Wangan Midnight and Initial D that focuses on my Wangan Midnight story and this Initial D story.

This is way after Project.D was done, and it shows the future generation of Touge Drifting!

IKE!

* * *

>INITIAL D
NEXT GENERATION

Story:
>18 years after Project.D has finished, Fujiwara Takumi has settled down from racing and started a new life with his Girlfriend, now wive, Uehara Mika. The AE86 that blew up after the race with the Shinji Wings was back in shape with another new engine, this time, the engine had made the car return to its original 150 Horsepower, but it could take more revs than the last engine. Now, on the year of 2016, a new downhill legend is beginning: Takumi's daughter, Fujiwara Akina, wanted her dad to train her to drift through the twisty roads of Mt. Akina (As you know, it's actually Mt. Haruna). Takumi, aided by Mika, taught Akina everything she had to know about her father's skills and what he did on the road, and after only 2 years, Akina was already a Downhill master just like her father. Will Akina continue her father's legacy?

Cast:

AKINA SPEED STARS

Fujiwara Akina
>Car: Toyota Sprinter Trueno GT-Apex AE86 (Fifth Stage Ver.)

Fujiwara Akina is the daughter of legendary driver, Fujiwara Takumi. She has trained drifting for Two years with her Dad and Mom and knows every ounce of Asphalt on Mt. Akina. Akina has that name exactly because of the Mountain her dad usually drifted on, and may become the next AE86 legend. She has a long Red Ponytail and wears a little tank top together with long jeans.

Iketani Shuto
>Car: Nissan Silvia K's S13

The son of Iketani Koichiro, Shuto has started drifting when he was 16 and is a little better than his father. He is the new leader of the Akina Speed Stars and is the Number 1 in it. Although he thinks he needs more practice to fully master the Mount. When he meets Akina and sees her amazing drifting skills, he's become impressed and intends to train under her wing. He essentially looks like his father, but younger.

Kanjin
>Car: Nissan 180SX RPS13

The son of Kenji, and the current Number 2 of the Akina Speed Stars. Kanjin is a little better than Shuto, but he preferred being Number Two since he wasn't the one who created the team. He is very confident in his skills as a drifter but just can't get any better, although when he gets a glance at Akina's AE86's drifting, he gets confidence that he will get better. He looks like his dad, but has a shorter hair.

Takeuchi Makoto
>Car: Toyota Corolla Levin SR5 AE85

The daughter of Takeuchi Itsuki and Akina's best friend. Unlike her father, Makoto trained drifting with Kanjin and Shuto, and later with Akina. She is very proud of her Hachi-Go even if it's an inferior car than the Hachi-Roku, and believes it can be just a little better than the AE86. She has a medium-length black hair and dresses a little more boldly than Akina.

AKAGI RED SUNS

Takahashi Matsuke
>Car: Mazda RX-7 Type R FD3S (Fifth Stage Ver.)

The son of Takahashi Keisuke, Matsuke is a little reckless with his dad's Yellow RX-7. The car has the modifications it had when it was on Project.D, the car stills has the tuning and bodywork from the team, but Matsuke tuned it up to be better not just on the Uphills, but also on the Downhills. His dad once said he was beaten by an old friend of his once, and that that friend was driving a car he wasn't expecting: The Trueno AE86. Matsuke thinks that beating the Hachi-Roku would make his dad proud, but when he was practicing once on Mt. Akina, he encountered the AE86 his dad was talking about, and was Out-Ran easily. He is blonde like his father and is the current Number 2 of the Red Suns.

Takahashi Shisuke
>Car: Mazda RX-7 Savanna FC3S (Fifth Stage Ver.)

The son of Takahashi Ryosuke, and who Matsuke considers as his brother. Shisuke drives his father's RX-7 FC3S from the Project.D, that still has the Bodykit from the extinct team. Shisuke is not that interested in Theory like his dad was when he was the director of Project.D, but as time progresses, he realizes that theory is needed to get better in the practical department. When he meets Akina and sees her AE86, he suddenly remembers his dad talking about a Legendary Hachi-Roku that was driven by Akina's father, and becomes inspired by it. He has white hair.

MYOGI NIGHT KIDS

Nakazato Kenshi
>Car: Nissan Skyline GT-R R32 V-Spec II

The son of Nakazato Takeshi, and a very determined DRIFT racer. Kenshi is not like his dad, that believed in the power of Grip Racing. Nakazato Kenshi has mastered Drift racing with his dad's R32 and Takeshi couldn't even believe it, he was very proud of his son. Takeshi told him that to get even better, he should follow on the footsteps of a racer that drove an AE86 with a Carbon Hood. Kenshi finds the AE86, but the driver he expected wasn't Takumi, but his daughter, Akina. He starts having a crush on Akina not just because of her driving style and beauty, but also because of her personality.

TOCHIGI EMPERORS

Iwaki Koji
>Car: Mitsubishi Lancer Evolution VI RS2 CP9A

The son of Iwaki Seiji, but not so reckless. Koji is the number two on the Emperors, which became a lot more friendly than the past Emperor team. Right now, they don't race for dominance over the Gunma province, they race there to practice driving skills. The Emperors are chasing the legendary AE86 to practice their skills and become better racers. He wears a Red cap on his head.

Sudo Matsuki
>Car: Mitsubishi Lancer Evolution III GSR CE9A

The daughter of Sudo Kyoichi and the new leader of the Emperors. It was her idea to not make the Emperors sound like a threatening team and actually seek more practice and training to become better drivers. When she meets Akina, they become great friends and also practice together, some times or not, they have a friendly battle where neither care about winning or losing. She wears a white bandanna around her jet black hair, just like her father.

* * *

>Yosh! Ikou-se!

2. Act 1

Yosh! Fujiwara Akina, it's time to start your Mount Akina adventure!

IKE!

* * *

>INITIAL D
NEXT GENERATION

A long time ago... There was a Legend in the whole Japan, about a driver that had extreme skills in the mountains and was unbeatable, no matter what opponent he will face. That driver has a name: Fujiwara Takumi, and his car was one that no one ever expected: A Panda Toyota Sprinter Trueno GT-Apex AE86.

On the Trueno's last race against Inui Shinji, the engine has blown out, but Takumi turned into reverse and won the race miraculously. Everyone knew that that car was a Monster, but not only a monster, a Legendary Machine.

Project.D has ended, but its members still linger around on Japan. Each one living their own lives.

* * *

>Mt. Akina, 16 of April of 2016.

* * *

>The Mount Akina is the home ground of a racing team called "Akina Speed Stars", a team that was build by Iketani Koichiro and now is directed by his son, Iketani Shuto.

A white Nissan 180SX was cruising on the downhill of Akina, that 180SX belonged to the Akina Speed Stars' Number 2, Kanjin.

"3:55 AM... It's very late now. I should head home." He said, but he heard an engine come from behind him. He looked on the rear-view mirror and saw two lights approaching him. "Hm...? Who is that?" He wondered. The car got closer and he could see the car clearly now.

"Oh. It's her." He said "That car's hood is not hard to forget." The car who was tailing his 180SX was that same Panda Trueno AE86.

The one called: "Hachi-Roku"

The two cars sped through a straight on the windy roads of Akina. The Hachi-Roku started his movement to pass the 180SX.

"Sorry, Akina, but I want to play for a bit. Even if you're better than me." Kanjin said, then shifted to 2nd Gear, starting a battle. The Hachi-Roku started giving chase to Kanjin. The one inside the AE86 was a woman.

More specifically: Takumi's daughter, Fujiwara Akina.

_Okay, Kanjin-Senpai. Ikou-se! _She thought, before stepping on the throttle and catching up to the 180SX. The two cars came up on a Right hander, the 180SX quickly stepped on the brakes and changed back to Second gear. Akina followed close behind, also changing to second gear and starting to drift, only much faster than the 180.

Kanjin looked behind and was very pleased by the sight. _You really are the best here on Akina, er... Akina _He thought, Akina had the name of the Mountain because of her own father. He called her like that remembering how he started in drifting, so he gave her the name of his Home Turf: Mt. Akina.

_If only you were from our team... _Kanjin thought. After they took the corner, Kanjin sped up into the straight, pulling away from the AE86, but then, he started drifting again on various other corners throughout the Downhill, with Akina following close behind. Kanjin couldn't outrun the legendary Hachi-Roku. The next corner he knew very well, it was a slow right hander that would change to a sharp left. He got to the outside and started braking, but Akina passed him and went to the right hander at speed.

_I know what she's gonna do. I've seen her do it once. _He thought. The Hachi-Roku ahead of him started making its back slide to the outer of the right hander, but then Akina lifted the foot off the throttle and pushed her car to the other direction almost instantly.

Kanjin never took that image off his mind even for a second.

The Inertial Drift...

After the AE86 pulled the Drift off, Kanjin thought it would be too risky to follow Akina further and slowed down, taking the turn at a lower speed, then watching as the old Trueno pulled away from him.

Akina... You are the Drift Queen of this Mountain... That I am certain...

ACT 1: THE DRIFT QUEEN OF AKINA

* * *

>The next day: Toudou High School

* * *

>"So, Akina, how are your skills doing?"

"My drifting is OK, but I feel like I could do a little better."

"What are you talking about!? You are the Drift Queen of Mt. Akina! You don't need to get better!"

The ones that were talking are Takeuchi Makoto and Fujiwara Akina. They are called "The AE Twins of Akina", because Akina drives the AE86 called "Hachi-Roku" and Makoto drives her father's AE85 Levin.

"Are you getting better, Makoto?" Akina asked her friend.

"Unlike my dad, of course. Still, I can't compare to your skills, Akina." Makoto complimented.

"Sure, but you're getting a lot better!"

Akina and Makoto were getting out of school while they were talking, when they reached the school gates, they saw their cars being checked out by some curious males. Akina and Makoto weren't really surprised at all. This started when they got pretty famous by racing Downhill, when the males watching the cars saw the two, Akina and Makoto widened her eyes and quickly ran inside their cars and closed the windows.

Yes, they were THAT famous.

"Jesus! I'm glad dad didn't need to pass through this when he was racing!" Akina commented. They started up their cars and sped away from the male crowd.

* * *

>Later, at the Gas Station...

* * *

>"Wow! Jesus, these male crowds just keep coming! I can't take them!"

Akina and Makoto work on the Gas Station Takumi and Itsuki once worked. Although, Makoto rolls up her shirt to showcase her belly, something bolder than what Akina did.

"Still, you should stop showing too much of your body, Makoto. You're nice, but that's just overdoing it." Akina commented.

"Ah, come on, Akina! We should feel pride for our bodies! You have a nice body too, Akina!" Akina always blushes when someone compliments her features, either was it her eyes, her body or even her personality.

"Come on, Makoto. I'm only good at racing." Akina said. Before they could say anymore, two cars approached their Gas Station, both being RX-7's; One was a white FC3S, the other was a yellow FD3S. Akina and Makoto remembered the cars instantly.

"Well look who arrived." Akina said "The two star drivers of the Akagi Red Suns."

The drivers of the FC3S and FD3S were the new Rotary Brothers, respectively, Takahashi Shisuke and Takahashi Matsuke. Both drivers stepped out of their cars.

"Mirashai-mase." Akina and Makoto said. "Do you need fuel?"

"Fill both cars with High-Octane, please." Shisuke said. Akina and Makoto obliged and started fueling the cars up. Shisuke looked at Akina while she filled the car's gas tank.

_She's really... Beautiful... _He thought. Matsuke was also thinking the same thing, when he looked to the side, he saw two cars, Makoto's AE85 and...

"!" Matsuke gasped when he saw the other car.

"What's wrong, Matsuke? Shisuke asked his brother, but saw the car as well. "Oh. That's why. Oyaji told various stories about that car. The 'Hachi-Roku'."

"I see you're interested on my car." Shisuke and Matsuke immediately turned and saw Akina by their side "Are you curious about something?"

"What?" Both brothers said "This is your car?"

Akina nodded "But that AE86 belonged to my dad, once."

"Who's your dad?" Matsuke asked her.

"Fujiwara Takumi." Both brothers got shocked after hearing her father's name.

_Fujiwara... _Matsuke thought.

_...Takumi? _Shisuke thought.

Akina saw their surprised faces and giggled a little. "Is it that surprising? When you saw that AE86, you should have figured out from the start."

"Actually... We thought Takumi was still racing." Matsuke said.

"Dad doesn't race anymore." Akina said "Ever since he married Mom."

"But I've heard that this AE86 still drifts around Mt. Akina." Matsuke said "If Takumi is not drifting it anymore, then who..."

"I am." Akina said, to even more shock of the two brothers "I am drifting the Hachi-Roku."

If it was a member of the Akina Speed Stars, sure, this wouldn't be surprising. But because these racers were very familiar with Takumi drifting, knowing his daughter was now drifting his AE86 is very surprising.

"Um... We might have to see it to be sure you are drifting it..." Matsuke commented.

"Good!" Shuto said, getting the attention of everyone "On this Saturday, we'll have a race meeting on Mt. Akina. The Akagi Red Suns can join in, too!"

"Hm..." Shisuke was interested in the idea, that way, he could see how good Akina was with the Hachi-Roku. "Okay. We'll meet up on Saturday, but we'll have to practice this course first."

"I'm going up tonight to practice." Akina said "Maybe you two could follow me! Haha!"

"Follow you? Heh." Matsuke said.

"Matsuke, don't get so cocky, remember that that's why your dad lost to that Hachi-Roku to begin with." Shisuke warned him, but ended up gaining a Karate chop from Matsuke.

"Seriously, Aniki. You already know me!" Matsuke argued.

"Good. I'll see you two tonight then!" Akina said before winking at them and returning to her work. Matsuke saw her wink and ended up blushing, getting a little embarrassed.

_Hm? Matsuke isn't someone to get embarrassed easily... _Shisuke thought after noticing Matsuke's blush.

* * *

>Fujiwara Household, 06:50 PM

* * *

>AN: There's somethings that I didn't share with you guys on the info chapter of this story, namely...

What Akina WEARS when she's racing the Hachi-Roku.

* * *

>"Hi dad! Hi mom!" Akina said, when arriving on the house.

"Oh, Hi Akina. How was your work today?" Takumi asked.

"The Akagi Red Suns visited the gas station today!"

"Oh, cool! Did they said they were going to race on Akina?" Of course, Takumi has a history with the Akagi Red Suns because of Shisuke's father, Ryosuke.

"Mmhm. But they're going to practice first before going all-out on Saturday." Akina said while going to her Bedroom.

"Are you going with them to practice?" Mika asked.

"Uh-huh, but you know me, I won't go there until I get ready!" Mika laughed a little at her daughter.

Takumi and Mika are already used to Akina going to her bedroom to change into another clothing. Why? Well she has some kind of "racing costume" she uses when she's going to drive the AE86.

After she got ready, she got in the AE86 and started the engine.

"Good Luck there, Akina." Takumi said.

"OK, Dad! See ya next day!" Akina said before shifting into first gear and driving away from her house.

* * *

>On the base of Mt. Akina, Shisuke and Matsuke were waiting for Akina and her AE86 to arrive.

While Shisuke was looking at the clock, they heard the sound of engine in the distance. When they looked to the entrance of the Mountain road, they saw the AE86. Akina pulled over beside them and rolled down the window.

"So, will it be an Uphill chase?" Akina said.

"Heh. When it comes to Uphills, no car is better than dad's FD3S!" Matsuke boasted.

_Oh, there he goes... _Shisuke thought, disappointed.

"Hm? Even though you say that, it's not the car that will make a difference. It's the driver." Akina answers, catching Shisuke's attention.

_She's right! _Shisuke thought _My dad once said that experience makes a difference while racing, so if you have the guts, courage and experience to turn a slow car into a fast car just by driving, you can. And there's no other family that can do that except the Fujiwara!_

"OK. If you think that why don't you try keeping up with me?" Matsuke said while he walked to his car and got in. Next thing they knew, the car started and Matsuke was already on his way Uphill.

Akina sighed. "Will you follow me?" She asked Shisuke.

"Sure." he answered, so he got in his car and started following Akina, which was driving at a slow pace.

_I guess the real action starts after Akina gets to the first straightway... _He thought. Then, after they passed the last turn before the finish...

"Now then..." Akina said, then changed to second gear, stepping on the gas.

(Play here: Gas Gas Gas - Manuel)

"Whoa! What an acceleration! But I thought this car was reversed to its original power!" Shisuke said, surprised at what he saw, he stepped on the gas as well in an attempt to follow Akina. "But I'm not afraid at least. I am the next generation 'Akagi's White Comet'!"

Akina was not surprised that the FC3S was following her, since Hachi-Roku has been brought back to its stock 150 HP, but she doesn't care about that, she's trying to catch up to someone on the Uphill, and she's definitely not letting him escape.

_Get ready, Takahashi Matsuke... _She thought _For I will show you..._

The Fujiwara Drifting skills!

After she thought that, she braked for the first corner and then slid her car sideways in a tremendous speed. Shisuke did the same with his FC3S and managed to keep up with her. They even had light trails that showed they took the exact same line.

_As I thought, Shisuke is just as great as his father. _She thought _But he's not my opponent right now. _

Meanwhile, ahead of the two cars is Matsuke on his FD3S, tackling the corners at a high speed drifting, but he's not going faster than Akina and his brother.

"Heh. Already left them behind?" He said. "Well, if I give my all, of course they'll be, and there's the Hachi-Roku." But while he's wondering about this, he saw lights on his Rear-view mirror. "HUH?! Caught up already?" he looked down and saw he lifted his foot from the throttle a little. "Oh."

Akina was just approaching him from behind, catching up, with Shisuke behind her. Matsuke didn't took that as too much of a challenge and stepped the throttle, pulling ahead. But when he braked for the upcoming turn, Akina caught up to him and all three cars did a twin drift on the corner.

"WHAT!?" Matsuke looked to his left, surprised "The Hachi-Roku can also do Uphills!?"

Akina was just smiling at Matsuke's priceless reaction.

"Kusa kenda! (Don't screw with me!)" Matsuke shouted and used his pedal control abilities he learned from his dad to clear the corner safely.

(A/N: Because we NEVER saw the AE86 try an Uphill race and you guys may not have seen the car's TRUE potential on it.)

The three cars kept running as they got to a straightway, Matsuke was pulling away from them.

"Right... Like that will be of any help." Akina said. Later, Matsuke had to brake for another corner and all three cars started drifting together, corner after corner.

"What the hell do you mean about that!? How can that AE86 catch up to dad's Hill-climber FD3S!? I thought that was just for Downhills!" Matsuke said, surprised at what he was seeing.

They were coming up at a slow right Uphill turn, Matsuke braked to slow the car down a little, but Akina kept stepping on the throttle.

_Akina are you NUTS!? _Matsuke thought _After this slow right there is an even SHARPER one! If you don't slow down, you'll go into the ravine!_

_Don't underestimate me, Matsuke... _Akina thought as if reading Matsuke's thoughts. _I'll show you what I'm made of. _

The AE86 started oversteering. Matsuke got scared that Akina would crash, but she then switched directions of the AE86, making Matsuke almost go insane.

_WHAT IS SHE DOING!? THAT'S NOT WHERE YOU- _But Matsuke's thoughts were interrupted when Akina switched directions once again and drifted to the right on a speed that should not be possible for a normal car to pass. Matsuke braked harder and started drifting, but Akina's speed was way superior than his and he was passed easily.

_What... The... Hell... _He thought, shocked, while he was following the Hachi-Roku's taillight trails.

* * *

>The ending is similar to the First Act of the First Stage, but instead of a Downhill, it's an Uphill.

And you thought Takumi wasn't good on the Uphill as well, huh?

End
file.